Required Texts or Suggested Materials:

Prerequisites: none

Learning Outcomes:

Upon successful completion of this course, candidates will be able to:

1. Understand the (5) language processing requirements of proficient reading and writing: phonological, orthographic, semantic, syntactic, discourse.
2. Recognize how the diversity of physical, social, emotional, cognitive, behavioral development, and cultural background of students can affect instruction.
3. Understand the reciprocal relationships among phonemic awareness, decoding, word recognition, spelling, and vocabulary knowledge.
4. Identify (and explain how) environmental, cultural, and social factors contribute to literacy development.
5. Explain major research findings regarding the contribution of linguistic and cognitive factors to the prediction of literacy outcomes.
6. Understand the most common intrinsic differences between good and poor readers (i.e., linguistic, cognitive, and neurobiological).
7. Know phases in the typical developmental progression of oral language, phoneme awareness, decoding skills, printed word recognition, spelling, reading fluency, reading comprehension, and written expression.
8. Understand the changing relationships among the major components of literacy development in accounting for reading achievement.
9. Understand the history of the field of dyslexia and the impacts of legislation on practice.

Course Requirements:

Readings & Discussions
Students will read a selection of current and relevant articles and texts related to course content and write reflections, compose written and/or video discussion posts, and complete other activities relating the content to their current context and experiences.

Article Reviews
Locate and review two articles related to the content of the course. Focus will be on understanding the contributions of research to the literacy field, as well as being an informed consumer of literacy research.

Case Study
Students will gain permission from parents to complete a case study of a child or adolescent. The focus of the case study will be on understanding the child’s literacy development to that point in time, as well as where next steps in development can be expected. Students should be able to account for levels of literacy development through relation to the major components of literacy development, including the Simple View of Reading and Scarborough’s Rope.

Grading Policies:
Scoring guides and rubrics are provided in Canvas. Policies on late work and resubmission of assignments are set by the instructor and will be included in the syllabus.
